Did you know that proper nutrition is not the only factor in reducing weight in dogs. You must provide them with appropriate amounts of exercise. Many people do not understand that dogs require an awful lot of exercise to maintain their proper health. If your dog is overweight, you will want to go for at least one walk in both the morning and the evening for up to 30 minutes each time, depending on the size of your dog. Castro Valley dog park is an excellent place for your dog to get exercise. You have to be an active partner in helping your dog reduce his weight.
